- 1) What is exfoliation?

Exfoliating is a means of smoothing the epidermis to minimize fine lines.

The Magic Peeling Glove® is able to exfoliate, in depth, the layers of the skin in a natural way, without the use of acids or abrasive substances. The mechanical action of this particular fabric on the skin favors the renewal of the cells and an even exfoliation of the horny layer of the epidermis in a safe and delicate way.

2) Is exfoliation useful?

The Magic Peeling Glove® has raised a lot of interest. Made of a cellulose fibre extracted from the plant broom, it is completely natural.

“Removing the surface cells may result in being very useful above all when stimulation to form a new epidermis is vital. For this reason exfoliation of the face and hands is being used more and more as a treatment to rejuvenate the skin. By rubbing the Magic Peeling Glove® on wet skin over the whole body, it enables the removal of dead surface cells, without damaging the dermis. In this way a mechanical exfoliation can be effected without using chemical substances. The risk of aggressive chemical exfoliation is that it causes the skin to lose its surface porosity and granulosity, making it seem unnatural and too finely smooth like a sheet of plastic”.

3) What is the difference between the Magic Peeling Glove®, horsehair, loofahs and scrubs?

The use of the Magic Peeling Glove® for skin care is not comparable to the results of other types of gloves. It is in a league of its own.

The Magic Peeling Glove® is a soft fabric made of natural fibres extracted from the plant broom of the Ginestra plant. These fine fibres are entwined with different degrees of elasticity. This exclusive process consents perfect adherence to the surface of the skin during the massage, enabling it to delicately eliminate dead cells and any other impurities even in the most minute cavities such as pores. You can actually see used residues of grey and devitalized skin coming off of your body.

Horsehair and loofah gloves are made of coarse fibres. They are often unnatural. The "twines" are woven, but they produce a rough surface which cannot adhere to the skin but simply create an abrasive action, (they can cause irritation and often unwanted scratches) or in some cases do nothing at all.

They DO NOT EXFOLIATE!

Scrubs are a method of cleansing, however, they are topical and only clean the top layer of skin. They do not exfoliate and over time can create a build up of residue on your dead skin.

That is why when other products are used there are no visible residues of grey or devitalized skin.

4) What effect does the Magic Peeling Glove® have on stretch marks?

"I have a problem: stretch marks which appeared on my stomach and breasts during pregnancy. I am worried they will increase, what can I do?"

Elizabeth Walter, San Fransisco, Ca

Stretch marks are caused by a reduction in the thickness of the skin. They appear not only during or after pregnancy, but also during puberty or when we lose or gain weight too rapidly. It is therefore important in these cases to maintain the skin moisturized and supple by using the Magic Peeling Glove® with specific creams.

In fact on recent stretch marks, e.g. after pregnancy or having lost weight, the Magic Peeling Glove® has excellent results. Used with specific creams it reduces the width and depth of the stretch marks, blending them in with the natural skin tone to create a smoother effect.

5) Can the Magic Peeling Glove® help against aging skin?

Magic Peeling Glove®:
Acting in time, against time.

It may seem incredible but after the age of 25 the skin begins its aging process.

Environmental factors such as pollution, UV rays and smoke are factors that attack our natural beauty, accelerating the aging process. The consequences being expression lines, dry skin, less elasticity and becoming prone to dull skin tone and more visible wrinkles. The Magic Peeling Glove® disintoxicates the skin, purifying it of harmful substances and favoring cell renewal.

The skin immediately appears glowing, softer and acquires more elasticity and firmness, the whole face appears smoother, wrinkles and expression lines are minimized and increased elasticity avoids that unpleasant feeling of tension that dry skin causes.
Weekly exfoliation and daily moisturizing are two important treatments that if carried out regularly, maintain the epidermis supple and youthful.

7) I tan. Does the Magic Peeling Glove® work for tanning as well? Will I lose my tan?

If you want a good suntan the most intelligent thing to do is use Magic the Peeling Glove®.

Exfoliate the face and body twice a week, by eliminating dead cells and impurities we can obtain a glowing, all even color and avoid flaky skin and unsightly patches.

By eliminating the dead cells that deposit on the surface of the epidermis you will be sure to obtain a deeper, longer lasting suntan. Exfoliate your skin prior to tanning and continue to do so once a week. Your suntan will not disappear. Simply remember to moisturize after exfoliating.

"What is the point of tanning cells which are ready to flake off?

The heat of the sun or sun lamps accelerate the process of the dead, causing cells to fall off and therefore the skin becomes flaky. Your suntan therefore appears dull and disappears quickly.

Exfoliating with the Magic Peeling Glove®, apart from giving your skin a fresh, glowing look, will prepare it for an intense, even and long lasting suntan. I know. I use it."
